Armed Forces Of U. S. Will Stay In Europe

All-Jet Air Defense Will Be Supplied

London, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Present United States armed forces in Europe will be maintained, ready for any emergency, and will be strengthened by an all-jet fighter air defense in Germany, American military chiefs disclosed today.

The joint chiefs of staff gave out this news in Grafenwoehr, Germany, shortly before flying here for their second stop on a military fact-finding tour of North Atlantic treaty countries.

Gen. Omar Bradley, army chief of staff, told reporters there was no prospect "that I know of" that American occupation forces in Germany will be reduced. They constitute the bulk of American land forces in Europe.

Prepared For Emergency
"Occupation troops are prepared for any emergency," Bradley said to the Americans who police the U. S. zone and guard the demarcation line with Soviet eastern Germany.

Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, disclosed that jets will replace all propeller type American fighters now in Germany.

(Air force officials in Washington said there are now two fighter groups in Germany, one of F-80 shooting star jets and one of F-47 thunderbolt propeller craft, each of 75 planes with 5 or more spares. They said jets would replace the thunderbolts, with the bulk of the transfer taking place Jan. 1, 1950.)

Vandenberg said the big U. S. air force base at Burtonwood, England, will remain in full operation after the Berlin airlift is cut back to skeleton size this fall. Burton was established more than a year ago to service aircraft planes during Russia's Berlin blockade.

Arrive In London
Bradley, Vandenberg and Adm. Louis Denfeld, U. S. chief of naval operations, arrived in London tonight to continue their survey of needs for bringing the 12-nation Atlantic pact into military effect.

They saw Italian, Luxembourg and American occupation force military leaders in Germany and will spend two days here with British, Norwegian and Danish staff chiefs.

On Thursday they will fly on to Paris to see the French, Belgian, Dutch and Portuguese.

Responsible big power informants here said the Americans are seeking, above all, assurances that the Atlantic pact allies will accept big-scale unification of strategic planning, command and functioning of their armed forces.

The American chiefs are not discussing the $1,450,000,000 foreign arms aid program now before congress in Washington. But official sources said they hope to eliminate, by the results of their tour, any doubt in congressional minds that the Atlantic treaty countries might not pull together as a team in case of aggression.

These sources said one result they hope for is that the five "Brussels pact" countries will agree to merge their own alliance into a tightly-knit whole of all 12 Atlantic pact nations.

Agriculture Dept. Allots Funds For School Lunch Plan

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The agriculture department today allotted $64,825,000 among the states, the District of Columbia and American territories for the national school lunch program for the school year ahead.

This is $5,750,000 more than was allotted last year.

Laws authorizing the program require federal funds to be matched equally by funds from sources within the states and territories, except where a state's per capita income is lower than the average for the United States.

Congress recently appropriated $83,500,000 for federal aid for the school lunch program. The unallotted balance will be retained by the department for the purchase of surplus nutritious foods for distribution among schools taking part in the program.

HARRY KLEIN DIES
Peoria, Ill., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Harry Klein, 60, president of Klein's Ready-To-Wear store in Peoria, died of a heart ailment today.

He was stricken while playing cards at the Creve Coeur club after lunch. Survivors include his widow, Della, a daughter, and five brothers.

ASST. POSTMASTER DIES
Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Alvin N. Rosenkrantz, 87, assistant postmaster here from 1898 to 1932, died today. He was a past exalted ruler of the Kankakee Elks lodge. Three daughters survive.

Czechs Say U. S.-Pope Civil War Plot Foiled

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The Communist press claimed today a joint Vatican-American plot to provoke civil war in Czechoslovakia over the church-state controversy had been foiled.

The charge was made by the Communist party organ, Rude Pravo, which claimed an "organization X," allegedly under an American high command, was working to "organize espionage, sabotage and diversion in countries that have abandoned the capitalist system."

Czechoslovakia has been under Communist domination since the Prague coup d'etat of February 1948, in which the Reds, with the aid of "action committees," took over the administration.

In a long article entitled "The Vatican fifth column," Rude Pravo's foreign commentator, Andre Simone, named Allen Dulles, brother of Sen. John Foster Dulles, as chief of "Organization X."

Simone also listed Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, whom he described as "the Pope's Hjalmar Schacht," as one of the organization's members.

(In New York, Dulles said he knew nothing about the report. He said he is chairman of the executive committee of the national committee for free Europe, whose purpose is to further the cause of liberty and peace and to support in America political leaders who have been driven from their homes by communism.)

"The Vatican spy service led by a general of the Jesuit order, Janson, and under the direct control of the state secretary of the Vatican, Montini, cooperates directly with organization in its endeavor to cause chaos in the people's democracies," the Communist writer said.

(The Vatican today identified a father John Baptist Janssens as general of the society of Jesus.)

Romania Requests Britain Recall A Charge D'Affaires

Bucharest, Romania, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Romania asked Britain today to recall Roderick Sarsel, British Charge D'Affaires at Bucharest, "for activity contrary to the laws of the Romanian popular republic and diplomatic custom."

The Romanian news agency said the recall request followed the arrest July 27 of a "gang of black marketeers and smugglers" who had been trailed for some time.

The news agency said the accused admitted they had wanted to leave Romania illegally for Vienna and that they were being helped by Sarsel.

The agency said that among those arrested are several employees of the British information office who admitted depositing jewels, paintings and rugs at the British legation in Bucharest.

A British foreign office spokesman last week described Sarsel's arrest by Romanian police as "inexcusable."

Foreign office sources said the affair appeared to be "an obvious plan designed to discredit Sarsel and the British government."

East-West Clash May Occur When GOP Picks Leader

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Republicans appeared headed today toward an East-West clash over the chairmanship of their national committee. Early arrivals for a Thursday committee meeting talked thirstily of selecting a western man rather than an easterner.

The one-day session was called to name a successor to Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. He says he is resigning to bring harmony to the faction-torn party.

Guy George Gabrielson, New Jersey committeeman and lawyer-industrialist, seemed to be the man to beat. The question was with whom?

Westerners came up with these names:

Senator Harry Cain of Washington; A. T. "Bert" Howard, of Nebraska; Arthur E. Summerfield, Michigan; Axel J. Beck, South Dakota; and Harry Darby, Kansas.

The last three are members of the committee and there is considerable sentiment for naming the new chairman from the membership.

FRENCH GUNMEN TAKE $300,000 IN JEWELS

Deauville, France, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Four masked men, armed with submachine guns, today held up the Van Cleef and Arpels jewelry store here and escaped in a waiting car.

Newspapers estimate value of the 32 pieces of jewelry lost at 50,000, 100,000, 100,000 francs ($160,000 to $320,000).

U. S. Rejects Russ Protest Against Italy Joining Pact

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The United States today formally rejected Russia's protest against Italy's participation in the North Atlantic defense pact.

Secretary of State Acheson branded as "utterly without foundation" Russia's accusation that Italy violated its peace treaty by joining the defense arrangement last April.

At the same time, he again denied Moscow's oft-repeated charge that the 12-nation alliance was "aggressive" in aim.

The state department made public the American reply to Moscow's note shortly after it was delivered to Russian Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin.

Russia made its accusation two weeks ago just as the Italian legislature was about to vote on whether to ratify Italy's membership in the North Atlantic treaty.

Despite the Russian blast, the Italian chamber of deputies approved the pact 323-60. The Italian senate followed suit last week.

Acheson said there is nothing in the Italian peace treaty to bar Italy's participation in regional defense arrangements.

The peace treaty limits Italy to an army of 185,000 men. A police force of 65,000, and an air force of 200 fighters, reconnaissance planes and 150 transport and air rescue craft. No bombers are allowed.

Acheson assured the Russians "no changes in the military requirements of that treaty are now being sought by Italy as far as the United States government is aware."

Battle Holds Big Lead In Virginia Governor Primary

Richmond, Va., Aug. 2.—(AP)—State Senator John Stewart Battle held a commanding 17,500 vote lead tonight with returns in from well over half of Virginia's precincts and appeared on his way to sweeping the field in Virginia's four-way democratic primary race for governor.

The conservative champion of the Virginia democratic organization headed by Senator Harry F. Byrd rolled up a steadily mounting plurality as returns poured in from the state's 1768 polling precincts. His nearest competitor was the avowed anti-organization candidate, Francis Pickens Miller, a former army colonel.

Behind the leaders, Horace H. Edwards, former Richmond mayor who pinned his hopes on a two per cent sales tax for schools, and Remmie L. Arnold, Petersburg manufacturer making his first try in state politics, trailed badly.

Unofficial returns from 1,023 precincts three hours after the polls closed at 7:30 p.m. (CDT) showed: Battle 64,002; Miller 46,683; Edwards 23,349; Arnold 10,724.

Four Red Columns Push Deeper Into China's Rice Belt

Canton, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Four Chinese Communist columns plunged deeper into the rice growing region of South-Central China today. One column reached a town only 235 miles from this refugee nationalist capital.

The operations threatened to isolate the "rice bowl" bastion of Changsha, 363 miles north of Canton. They also menaced a government counterdrive east of Changsha.

The government had lashed out east from Changsha and reached Anfu, which is 300 miles northeast of Canton. This was to put pressure on a Communist column east of Anfu.

Now official nationalist dispatches indicate this government force in turn is endangered by a red sweep to the south of Anfu. One column was driving on Suchuan, 235 miles north of Canton.

Other nationalist dispatches reported the Reds again had cut the railway between Changsha and Canton at Lukou about 50 miles south of Changsha.

The other columns were cutting around the strong natural defenses of Changsha on the northwest.

United States Of Indonesia Will Be Formed In Indies

Batavia, Java, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Representatives of the Indonesian republic and 15 Dutch-backed states of the East Indies agreed today to form a United States of Indonesia which will accept sovereignty under the Netherlands crown.

The agreement still needs Dutch approval. It will be submitted at a forthcoming round-table conference on Indonesia's future which is scheduled to be held at The Hague.

The agreement calls for a European-type provisional government to be formed as soon as possible, covering all 2,000,000 inhabitants of the islands the Dutch once ruled as colonies.

It marks, presumably, one of the final steps toward ending the revolt against Dutch rule that has resulted in sporadic fighting since Indonesia's liberation from the Japanese in 1945.

The United Nations commission for Indonesia has announced that a formal cease-fire between the Dutch and the republicans will be proclaimed tomorrow and go into effect a few days later.

FETE GRANDEFATHER DAY AT RAILROAD FAIR

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Tomorrow will be Grandpa's Day at the Chicago Railroad Fair.

Prizes are offered for the youngest and oldest grandpa and the one with the most grandchildren.

But the ladies won't be overlooked. Fifty fall bonnets will be handed out at the special events arena in several contests.

Woods Says Building Permits Not Given For Influence

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—House expediter Tighe E. Woods today said two race tracks got a construction permit from his agency not because of influence but because post-war building controls were a "farce."

Woods spent 90 minutes closeted with the senate's "five per cent" probes. He told newsmen their questions included the dealings of his office with James V. Hunt, Washington "management counselor," in these two matters:

1. The race track jobs. Woods has said he understands a client paid Hunt $15,000 for his services in 1947 in getting a construction clearance for one of the tracks, Foxborough, near Boston. The other was Tanforan, near San Francisco.

2. Hunt's request that he (Woods) go to the commerce department to try to get steel scrap shipped from Europe to this country.

Woods said he told investigators what he had already reported—that he did tackle the commerce department, but he didn't accomplish much. He went, he said, because scrap was sorely needed for the manufacture of soil pipe used in home construction.

Woods' meeting was with the staff of the senate's special investigating committee. The committee wants to learn about persons who charge businessmen five per cent—or some other fee—for helping them get federal contracts. The practice is deplored officially but is not illegal.

Woods said the questioning was friendly, adding:

"I told them influence wasn't needed under the building rules. Once you had the regulations, anybody could find the loopholes."

The housing official, in a weekend interview, had disclosed that Hunt asked for favorable consideration of the construction job at Tanforan. At that time federal clearance was required for all building.

Tells Of Thyroid Cancer Cure With Radioactive Iodine

New York, Aug. 2.—(AP)—I. S. Randall, New York advertising and sales executive, told today in the American magazine, how drinking radioactive iodine, apparently has cured him of hopeless thyroid cancer.

The iodine drink is a glass of ordinary water containing a very small amount of radioactive iodine. Before the war this iodine was made by cyclotrons and was scarce and expensive. Now it is made by atomic energy plants, at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and at Chicago, and is much easier to get.

Randall's case adds one more to a small list of spectacular and almost miraculous discoveries, due to radioactive iodine drinks. His thyroid cancer had spread to his spine and to shoulder bones. He discovered it when he came down on his heels one day and partly crushed a vertebra which had been riddled by the cancer.

He had gone to a hospital to die, when the iodine drink was tried. It quickly cured his back pain. In a few months the thyroid cancers disappeared. Now he is up and says he is feeling younger and more jaunty than for years and that he has recovered a portion of his "vanished youth," that even the seams and wrinkles in his face have smoothed out.

Senate Votes FBI Check On All AEC Scholarship Pupils

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The Senate voted today to require a full FBI check of all students recommended for research fellowship under the Atomic Energy commission.

The provision was inserted by voice vote into an independent of forces appropriations bill at the request of Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.)

The FBI check for AEC fellowship candidates is a direct result of the disclosure last May that a fellowship had been awarded to Hans Freistadt, an avowed communist at the University of North Carolina.

Shortly after the Freistadt case became public, the national research council, which administers the multi-million dollar fellowship program for the AEC, agreed to require a loyalty oath and non-communist affidavit from fellowship candidates.

Anderson Comes Forth With Yet Another Farm Plan

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Senator (D-N.M.) stirred up yet another farm price tonic mixture today.

It calls for flexible government supports for some crops, rigid control program for others, and authority to try out the Brannan subsidy plan on some perishables.

There was no indication that Anderson, who used to be secretary of agriculture, had come up with a formula to everybody's taste.

Senator Aiken of Vermont, the top-ranking Republican on the senate agriculture committee, said "this needs pretty careful screening."

Sensors Young (R-N.D.), Hoyer (D-N.C.) and Elmer Thomas (D-Ola.) were reported favoring the plan already adopted by the House, extending the present price support system another year and putting off action on a long-range program.

Anderson heads a seven-man subcommittee which is casting about for an acceptable bill. The other senators mentioned also are members; Thomas is chairman of the agriculture committee itself.

U. S. Hits China Red Officials For Not Stopping Mobs

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The United States has protested to Chinese communist authorities about the delay in taking action to halt mob violence at the Shanghai Evening Post and Mercury last week.

It said the police at first did not respond to appeals for help.

State department press officer Lincoln White gave these additional reports on China at a news conference:

1. The American consulate general building at Shanghai will be open for "normal business" tomorrow. A siege of the building by Chinese formerly employed by the U. S. navy has been lifted. They were seeking a settlement of wage claims against the navy.

2. White denied reports in Shanghai's Chinese language newspapers that American negotiators trying to settle the wage argument had agreed to three months severance pay. White said the two American officials had power only to negotiate. He said there have been no agreements but that negotiations are continuing.

3. Published reports that an American ship is being prepared at Hong Kong to pick up Americans who want to flee from Shanghai are "news to us," White declared.

House Votes Increase In Veteran Pensions

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—A move to deny President Truman the power to arm any nation he thinks necessary developed in the Senate's powerful combined committee on foreign relations and armed services today.

Members said that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) led the drive to strip such powers from the president's $1,450,000,000 program to arm "free nations" abroad.

Although the senators did not want to be quoted by name, some of them gave reporters this account of what happened at a closed session of their joint committee with Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson:

Vandenberg, who has been a strong supporter of the bi-partisan foreign policy, objected vigorously to language in the foreign arms bill that would let the president supply arms to any nation and permit him to recognize a group of persons as a nation for this purpose.

The influential Republican contended this is the greatest grant of power ever asked by a president in peacetime.

Secretary Acheson defended the bill in its present form, but agreed reluctantly to discuss possible changes.

Secretary Johnson told the committee he thinks it will take five years to rearm our allies fully, but that the $1,450,000,000 now proposed will be the largest single year's contribution the U. S. will have to make.

Some committee members questioned a provision of the bill which they said would permit heads of government departments, rather than the chiefs of staff, to determine what military supplies and equipment are surplus. Under the administration's program, existing surplus weapons and supplies that originally cost $450,000,000 would be sent to U. S. allies.

Mrs. Jones Given 7 To 14 Years In Abortion Slaying

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Olive Jones was sentenced today to spend seven to 14 years in the penitentiary for manslaughter in the abortion death of Mrs. Roberta Danks.

The 40 year old housewife also was sentenced to five to 10 years on each of two abortion counts. She was charged with helping a doctor perform the fatal operation in the basement of her home. All sentences will run concurrently.

A 28 year old telephone switchboard operator at Roosevelt College, Mrs. Danks' body was found crumpled on a lonely road near Chesterton, Ind., in February.

At first, police believed that the Chicago war widow was the victim of an automobile accident.

Mrs. Jones was arrested at her home (at 5524 Dorchester avenue) on March 15. In a statement to police she said Dr. Edward Rosenberg, owner of the Douglas Park hospital, as the physician who performed the illegal operation.

Dr. Rosenberg, 51, a eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist, died that evening. A coroner's jury decided his death was a suicide.

'Bama Klan Head Sent Back To Jail For Hiding Records

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 2.—(AP)—The head of the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama went back to jail today.

A circuit judge ordered that William Hugh Morris be held until he produces secret records of the white-robed order. The decision said Morris is still in contempt of court for failing to deliver the Klan roster to a grand jury.

McRiss, balding, portly Birmingham roofing contractor, previously served 16 days in county jail under the same contempt citation.

The sentence runs indefinitely. Under it, he must remain in jail until he clears himself of the contempt citation by delivering the records.

He claims they have been stolen and that he is unable to obtain new ones.

The grand jury wants the records for its investigation into violence by hooded mobs here.

Father Whose Girl Was Terrorized By Robber Slugs Him

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—A young father whose child had been terrorized by a robber knocked down a police prisoner whom he identified tonight as the assailant.

The prisoner, Thomas Matson, 21, denied he was the robber.

William McCarty, 29, picked out Matson from a police lineup as the man who last Sunday night threatened him, his wife Doris, 28, her mother and the McCarty's two year old daughter, Sharon.

McCarty said the man gained entrance to his home by posing as a telegraph messenger, tied the adults' hands and threatened to kill the baby if not given money. The McCarty's gave him $50 and jewelry valued at $100.

McCarty signed a robbery complaint against Matson, then turned on the prisoner.

"You will threaten my daughter, will you?" he shouted as he struck Matson, knocking him to the floor. Police pulled him away.

SOLONS WISH HOOVER A HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The House joined the senate today in unanimously wishing former President Herbert Hoover a happy birthday.

Hoover will be 75 on August 10.

The House adopted a resolution, previously approved by the senate, congratulating Hoover and expressing "admiration and gratitude" for his services to the nation and the world.

Commission Decides Against Tearing Down White House

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—A special commission decided definitely today against tearing down the White House.

Instead, the executive mansion will get a $5,400,000 face lifting.

A group of six men settled the controversy between advocates of renovation and those who wanted to raze the present building and put up a new one.

Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) of the senate appropriations committee and head of the commission, announced the decision after a long conference at the White House.

Sagging under the burden of a century and half, the mansion became so unsafe that President Truman asked congress for money with which to do something about it.

He conceded at the time that it might be cheaper to build a new

Program Adds $112 Million To Benefits

Washington, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Without a single vote in opposition, the House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill raising veterans pensions and disability payments by more than $112,000,000 a year.

The measure sailed through despite objections from the White House. The budget bureau informed Congress that the legislation was not in accord with President Truman's program.

TRUE TO TEXAS TRADITION

There's something strictly Texan about the report that a whole town in Texas has been trespassing ever since the oldest inhabitant can remember.

Not that Texans are less respectful of law than anyone else. But surely they would hate to be caught doing anything in a minor manner.

Likewise, as the Denning case indicates, they would push to challenge a mere city ordinance or a county ruling, or even a federal law. In fact, only Texas itself could offer the folks of Denning the sort of opponent a Texan likes. So, the report says, they trespassed against the state.

It happens, we are told, that a citizen in 1884 received a patent from the state on a 177-acre plot. But he forgot to file the document. On that land a town has grown up, folk have built homes and assumed they were owning property.

And now what? Our guess is that the state of Texas will be lenient—not so much because these citizens, if they are trespassing, are doing so unintentionally but because they are doing it in true Texas style. They have given one more advertisement to the ideology of the Lone Star State. If we do it in Texas, it's in a big way.

Boyle's Column

A Recipe For An Old Invalid

By Hal Boyle

New York, Aug. 2—(AP)—There is a sick thing here that won't die and won't get well.

Many people love it and some fear it. And a lot of folks pay money to go and see it.

This sick thing is the theater, the fabulous invalid.

The theater has had more doctors than any hopchondriac, including the renowned vegetarian, George Bernard Shaw, who has lived so long that he is beginning to be mistaken for a rewood sapling with premature gray hair.

Lot Of Things Wrong

There are a lot of things wrong with the theater. It suffers from diseases that range from low blood pressure in some seasons to high prices in any season. And I am one of those who admire the patient but would sure like to see the old girl cured.

I don't expect this to happen in my time, as I am a restrained optimist. Part of this is probably pure personal pique. For example, I met a fellow the other night who bragged he had been to see "South Pacific" twice, whereas I, a citizen of the average moral cunning and still two jumps ahead of section 77-B of the bankruptcy act, am yet foreign to this production except via musical recordings of Ezio Pinca's enchanting evening with Mary Martin.

It isn't as if I can't get a couple of ducats to this particular musical show, because I can. I have been promised them—for the usual box office price.

Driving Customers Away

The only catch is that I have a three-year apartment lease. By the time the tickets come through I may be living in Bangkok, Siam.

This is what I think is the big trouble with the theater today. You have to plan your whole future to be sure of getting a seat.

They are driving the customers away by making your attendance more a test of your Dun and Bradstreet rating rather than your cultural awareness. Only the graduate of a correspondence course in muscle building can work his way through the throng to buy his seats at the box office for a hit play. And if you purchase them by mail, they are things you leave in your will for your children to enjoy. How can a man be sure he will live long enough to use them himself?

Yet today there are only a baker's dozen of theatrical productions on Broadway, and thousands of eaged and able and talented actors, young and old, walk the streets unemployed.

Several Wonderful Plays

There has arisen among the devotees of the theater the cult of the new. There are a hundred, perhaps a thousand, grand old plays that tell the sad and splendid and terrible story of man—wonderful plays, yet the stages are bare, the theaters darkened. Who wants to see old King Lear die again when for a fast sawbuck and a slow walk you can watch the death of a modern salesman who lost his family empire?

Well, I think there are some millions of us who would gladly fork out $1.10 or $2.20 and climb up in the balcony to watch the dying king cry over his dead daughter.

Never until the theater climbs out of the sickbed it got itself into, takes off its stuffed shirt—and starts entertaining people by putting more actors back to work.

The play's the thing. And the plays are there.

60,000 Will Attend Legion Convention

The American Legion will "go to town" again, beginning Friday, August 5.

An established 60,000 Legion men and women from all sections of Illinois will flock to Chicago for the 31st annual state convention which runs through Monday, August 8.

These visitors will be in addition to 5,000 delegates and alternates who will be on hand for the business sessions in the Chicago Opera House, 20 N. Wacker Drive.

An action-packed four days have been set up by the Legion's convention committee under Louis Rosset, executive chairman.

High point of the convocation, as usual will be the "Big Parade" down Michigan Ave., from Chicago Ave. to Roosevelt Rd., beginning at 2 p.m., Sunday, August 7. Ten thousand uniformed Legionnaires will march, together with 35 musical groups, two score floats, dozens of drum majorettes and numerous vehicles and "Leapin Lemas."

NICKEL COMES OUT

Cheyenne Wells, Colo.—(AP)—Larry Webb, 4, was such a good boy during a bout with pneumonia the doctor gave him a shiny nickel. Larry carried the nickel with him practically every waking moment for a week. Then one day he put it in his mouth and gulped it down.

That was the cue for another doctor to enter Larry's life. He was the one at Colorado General hospital who, somewhat to the boy's discomfort, salvaged the nickel after Larry's parents hustled him to Denver.

Committee investigators were said to be working on a lead furnished them indirectly by John Maragon, fast-talking, man-about-Washington who claims friendships with many high government officials. Maragon was said to have given a Senator, not a member of the committee, a story of priorities transactions involving certain government officials whose relatives allegedly received favors from the business firms involved. Committee members said the information, transmitted immediately to the investigating staff, probably will require extensive checking.

Jeris Ann Bates, Bob Sims To Be Married Sept. 18

The date of the forthcoming marriage of Jeris Ann Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bates, 612 South Church street, to Bob Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Sims, 227 West Beecher avenue, was revealed at the home of the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Wayne Hendrix, 503 North Church street, on Monday, August 1, at 6:30 p. m. when buffet supper was served to sixteen guests.

MISS JERIS ANN BATES

The theme, wedding bells, was carried out through the decorations. In one of the servings of cake, a message in poetry, which wrapped an engagement ring, disclosed the first clue to a series of messages which were hidden through the house. Under a silver bell, was written the date, September 18, 1949, which is the date the wedding will take place at the First Baptist church in this city.

Tiny brides were dressed by the guests in white crepe paper with a prize for the best dressed doll going to Theone August. Two pencil games were played, with both prizes going to Wanda Harrell.

The following guests were present: Mary Carl, Theone August, Nadine Grogan, Louise Stevens, Jean Myers, Fat Campbell, Donna Henley, Frances Wolfe, Barbara Bieber, Wanda Harrell, Norma West, Betty Ann Megginson, Mary Worrell, Mary Elledge, Shirley Smith, the guest of honor, her mother and the hostess, Mrs. Herrin, who was assisted by Mrs. Paul Laughery.

Miss Bates graduated with the class of 1949 from Jacksonville High school. Mr. Sims was graduated from Jacksonville High school with the class of 1946. He is now employed in the meat department of the local Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

Carrollton Pastor Accepts Call To Church In Texas

Carrollton—Rev. and Mrs. A. O. Kaul and family plan to leave within the next two months for Austin, Texas, where Rev. Kaul has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Christ Lutheran church in that city.

Rev. Kaul has been pastor of the local Lutheran church for the past five years, during which period the church has made rapid advances both in the addition of new members and in a financial way.

When Rev. Kaul came to the local church there was a membership of 14. The membership is now 185, with 60 of the new members being received into the church since January 1, 1940.

Also during the five-year period a new church and school have been built and the school organized with a staff of teachers. The church also owns a parsonage and a home for teachers of the school.

Brissie Plans To Finish Season Despite Pains

By Frank Eck

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor Brooklyn, N.Y.—It would be anything but a surprise to see the Philadelphia sports writers give another "courageous athlete" award to Lou Brissie. The handsome southpaw of Connie Mack's Athletics is pitching his heart out on one good leg. "My leg bothers me again," said the Purple Heart veteran after his three-inning stint in the All-Star game. "It continually swells up and I should have it operated on again but I won't let them. Not until the season is over, anyway."

Brissie is the most remarkable pitcher in major league history, without reservations. His left leg was shattered during the war to such an extent that he still wears a catcher's shin guard under his stocking to protect what little he has left of it.

The 220-pound six-foot-five lefty from Ware Shoals, S.C., was left for dead in Northern Italy. After he was found half dead and brought to a hospital, doctors insisted on amputating the leg, but Brissie fought against them. He underwent 23 operations and walked on crutches for two years. Then he came back to his first love, baseball, and won 23 games for Savannah in the Sally League in 1947.

Last season he won 14 and lost 10 for the A's, and this season, despite pains and swelling in the leg which bears his weight when he comes down off the mound, he is having an even better year.

Brissie's record for the first half of this season shows 16 starts and nine complete games for a nine-win and four-loss record. From June 7 to July 1 he won five straight. He's lost some tough decisions, too, notably a 2-1 game to the Yankees in 15 innings despite allowing only six hits.

Connie Mack is to be commended for his handling of Brissie. The robust-looking pitcher would work every other day if he had his way. Connie needs pitching help right now yet he still plans to give Brissie that extra day of rest, pitching him every fifth day even though Lou is always ready to save a game.

The pitcher, whose father told him to "play for Mr. Mack and nobody else," has been brilliant in his two relief efforts this spring, twirling three hitless innings to save two games for a faltering teammate.

Two of Brissie's best rout-going jobs of the season were turned in against the champion Cleveland Indians. He beat them, 8-2, with four hits in June after tossing a 7-3 five-hitter at them in mid-April.

"I may be pressing too much out there right now," says Brissie. "But I'm going through with the rest of the season before thinking about hospitals."

The 25-year-old Army veteran has been an inspiration to wounded servicemen, not to mention Mr. Mack and the Athletics.

LOOKS AHEAD

New York—(AP)—Tom Longfield's 81st birthday and the new bowling season are being awaited with equal eagerness by the veteran keeper. It will be Longfield's 47th consecutive season in the Equitable Life Assurance Co. league, although he has been retired a dozen years.

In 1903, as a youngster of 34, Longfield joined Equitable employees in a bowling session and was high scorer. In the 47 years since, Tom missed just two kegling sessions, both to engage in other sports. Three years ago he had high series of 620 as his team clinched the league crown.

Marjory Mahan, MacMurray Grad, Has Top Position

A recent edition of the "White Collar Girl," Ruth McKay's column in the Chicago Tribune, is devoted to the success attained by Miss Marjorie Mahan, a graduate of MacMurray college, in her position as secretary to the president of the Fred Harvey company.

Miss Mahan became secretary to Byron Harvey Jr., six years ago when he was vice president of the company which maintains restaurants, shops and hotels at Santa Fe Railway stations across the country. He is the grandson of Fred Harvey, who originated the idea of providing such conveniences for train passengers.

A native of Palmyra, Miss Mahan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mahan. She attended the Palmyra schools and in 1939 was graduated from MacMurray college, where she majored in business administration.

While a student at the college, she worked part time as secretary to the head of the business department. After graduation, she did promotional work, serving as assistant to the director of admissions. She now makes her home in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban McDaniel

The double-ring rites were performed by Rev. Fred Wilson at an altar banked with ferns and white and salmon gladioli. A musical prelude was presented by Miss Mary Lou Hayes of Pleasant Plains, who also played the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Wendell Brackett of Naples was the soloist.

In the wedding party were Miss Beverly Jean Wanglin of Milan, maid of honor; Donn Price of Biggsville, best man; Miss Bernita Koch of Springfield and Mrs. Donald Obert, sister-in-law of the bride, bridesmaids; and Ray Brockhouse of Springfield and Howard McDaniel, brother of the bridegroom, groomsmen. Ushers were Donald Obert, twin brother of the bride, Carlos McDaniel of Chapin, Harold Soy of Woodson and William King, Jr. of Mollie. The candles were lighted by Harold Soy and Donald Obert.

Ivory satin fashioned the gown worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. The gown, made by the bride's mother, was styled with a square neck and pointed sleeves and featured a flounce at the bottom, extending into a flowing train.

The bride veil was of illusion tulle, held in place with a seed pearl. She wore a single-strand of pearls, given her by the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of roses, showered with snapdragons and carnations.

The gowns of the bridal attendants were of pastel organza over white taffeta. They wore bands of gladioli in their hair and carried matching bouquets. Miss Wanglin's gown was of aqua and her flowers were salmon colored. Mrs. Obert wore lavender with pink flowers and Miss Koch wore pink peach with lavender flowers.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to Wisconsin. Upon returning they will reside at 860 Grove street.

Luella Mae Wulf Becomes Bride Of Harris R. Boeker

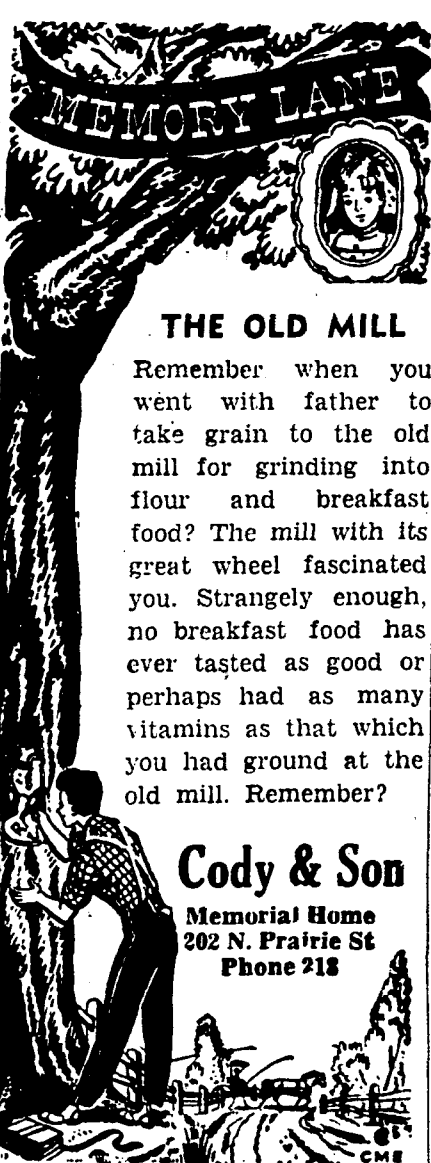

Ashland—Miss Luella Mae Wulf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto D. Wulf of this city, became the bride of Harris Edwin Boeker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Boeker of Chandler, in St. Paul's Evangelical church at Petersburg Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert S. Niehaus, following an organ recital presented by Miss Mary Schirring. Mrs. Freida Dowell sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a princess style gown of white bridal satin, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long tight sleeves ending in points over her hands. Her full skirt which fell entrain, was edged with lace, as was her three-quarter length veil, held in place by a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid and showered with streamers.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Ray Van Geiser, of Pawnee, sister of the bridegroom, and George E. Wulf of this city, brother of the bride. Ushers were Richard Evers of this city, and John Sullivan, Greenville.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents from 2:30 until 5 p. m. After a wedding trip to Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Boeker will reside on a farm in Cass county where he has been engaged in farming with his father.

THE OLD MILL

Remember when you went with father to take grain to the old mill for grinding into flour and breakfast food? The mill with its great wheel fascinated you. Strangely enough, no breakfast food has ever tasted as good or perhaps had as many vitamins as that which you had ground at the old mill. Remember?

Bargain-Wise Public Responds To Dollar Day In Big Numbers

Jacksonville's semi-annual Dollar Day served as a powerful magnet Tuesday to attract the buying public of west central Illinois to the local business district.

Waiting lines formed in front of some of the stores before the opening hour of 9 o'clock.

Parking space in the metered area was practically all taken up by the time the stores opened.

The business section hummed with activity throughout the day as large crowds of shoppers took advantage of bargains on all sides.

The stores met the influx of shoppers with enlarged sales staffs. Some of the stores were crowded most of the day, offering merchandise and prices that appealed to bargain-wise buyers.

Monday night's rain cooled off this section of the state, so that Tuesday was a relief from the torrid weather of the past few weeks. Shoppers moved about without discomfort for the weather.

By noon the success of Dollar Day was firmly established, placing this special sales in the long list of other special sales by which Jacksonville merchants keep in the forefront of the retail parade.

The Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Dollar Day, which was widely advertised throughout Morgan and several adjacent counties.

Miss America To Crusade For Clean Thinking In World

London, Aug. 2—(AP)—Miss America, who says she has never been out with a man of the world, went dancing tonight with some men who have been around a lot.

Bebe Shopp, 18-year-old honey-haired blonde from Minnesota, was entertained by Royal Air Force officers at their club, The Pathfinder.

Bebe, current queen of U. S. bathing beauties, arrived by plane in London today on the start of a 33-day visit of European beaches. To intrigue newsmen she announced her intention to crusade for clean thinking and against false bosoms.

She disposed of falsies thusly: "I don't wear them and I never will. A girl must be her very own self."

Bebe appeared as her very own self, too. She wore a gleaming nylon one-piece bathing suit that showed off her corn-fed curves (bust 37 inches, hips 36 inches).

Rescue Fisherman From Mid-Stream Rock After 11 Hrs.

Columbia, S.C., Aug. 2—(AP)—A 21-year-old fisherman was rescued at 6:15 a.m. today from a rock on which he was marooned for 11 hours in the flooded broad river.

Robert Monroe Lee, who can't swim, was trapped late yesterday when the water rose suddenly. He was only tired today from his experience, and a few hours sleep fixed that.

The rescue was made by two city firemen in a small outboard motorboat. They beat a navy blimp and an army helicopter out of a dramatic rescue.

Lee had perched atop a small expanse of rock, just large enough for him to sit on, throughout the night. The rolling river swamped and battered all early efforts to reach him by motorboat, rubber raft and life line.

When Columbia fire department rescue specialist Clyde Hurst, 38, snaked his little boat through the rapids to Lee's rock, the waters had dropped several inches. They still were dangerous.

During the year 1887 the whole world had produced only about 2,000 tons of nickel, most of it coming from New Caledonia.

Also to the Priest and many friends in Jeffersonville, Indiana, and beautiful service rendered and efficient preparation of the final funeral home.

HOUSE STAYS FIXED:

STATES COUNTIES MOVE
 Lincolnville, Me.—(P)—A tiny house has stood in two states and three counties—but it has never been moved. The 230-year old dwelling—one of Maine's oldest—was built about 1718, when Maine was a part of Massachusetts. When Maine became a state it was in Lincoln county. In a later county division it was in Hancock county. In 1827, a third division made the area Waldo county.

The two-room house was acquired in 1939 by Rachel E. Abershawa and Hester R. Hoffman of Newport. Most of the old oaken beams remain as do the original mantle and ovens in the kitchen.

LOCKSMITH'S WIFE PICKS LOCKS

Charleston, W. Va.—(P)—What does the locksmith's wife do when he is busy picking locks? She picks locks herself. That is, if she is Mrs. Madelyn Judy, attractive wife of Charleston locksmith Reuben Judy. He likes to recall that shortly after their marriage, before he knew of her talent, he left her in charge of the shop while he was out on a job. Four allegedly pickproof locks were in the shop at the time. When he returned they were pick-proof no longer.

"A lot of people come into the shop with locks they want picked and ask for by husband," she said. "They seem surprised when I tell them I can do it."

MR. BUSHY RETIRES

New York—(P)—Mr. Bushy, Maine Chance Farm's winner of the National Stallion Stakes and the Arlington Park Futurity last year, is to be retired to stud. A bowed tendon and throat trouble ended the horse's career after he won three of four straits for $33,675. Mr. Bushy brought $50,000 as a weanling from Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham.

SINGAPORE HAS SERVANT PROBLEM

Singapore—(P)—Middle income bracket families are complaining that Europeans spoil the servants by paying too much in salaries and wearing the servants from hard work.

That's what the Singapore Employment Exchange Officer, Aw Chin, says. He contends that Europeans (the all-inclusive word used for white people) pay up to $47 monthly.

By Mildred Cram and Harwood White

THE STORY: A wealthy widow, Mrs. Everson, has fled with her servants in two giant trailers to "a place of safety" from atomic warfare which she believes impending. In the party are Mrs. Malone, cook, and the housekeeper, the Marchese Bellacane. Mrs. Everson's companion, Rudy, chauffeur, and Victor, the housekeeper's son, are also in the party. During the trip to the desolate canyon country, which Mrs. Everson says is safe from atomic bombs, Mrs. Malone learns that Mrs. Everson is in love with Rudy, who she already has met in terms of her wealth. Mrs. Malone, however, has found that the country is not completely safe, but that she already has met a hunter, from whom Mrs. Everson's housekeeper, the Marchese Bellacane, is told by Mrs. Everson that the party will stay here several months and that they will know when the disaster strikes the world by listening to their radio. Mrs. Malone turns on her radio, then turns it off. She doesn't want to hear the alarm when it comes.

XX

THE hours that followed brought no joy to Mrs. Malone. She performed one duty after another, taking great pains, making certain that she did not think beyond the gesture of the moment.

Mrs. Everson, on the other hand, was gay, jubilant, even animated. Mrs. Malone could hear her laughing outside as she joked with Rudy. Wherever the handsome, swarthy fellow was, there too was the woman whose money had attracted him. They exchanged long, bold, challenging looks. What they said to each other Mrs. Malone could only guess.

But she did guess. Desire had risen in Mrs. Everson, desire imperious and tormenting, because for so long denied. Now that she was safe from public attention, she could at last put her sterile loneliness aside. She was in possession of Rudy's secret; she knew his past. Yet she had accepted him and trusted him. Now he belonged to her.

Mrs. Malone tried to ignore the sordid game. She was thankful that Mrs. Everson's orders left her little time for watching the pair. The menu for the gala dinner called for six courses: savory, soup, entree, salad, dessert, coffee. Victor spent most of the day polishing silver and pressing napery of incredibly fine linen and delicate lace.

TOWARD noon the Marchese came out of his room. He made himself comfortable on the sofa, put on a pair of horn-rimmed spectacles and began to read.

Mrs. Malone had the impression that he was quite unaware of Victor's presence, or of her own. But once, when Victor had gone out to bring water from the spring, she broke through the Marchese's bland preoccupation with a flash of temper.

"I don't see how you can sit there reading, when maybe the world's blowing up right this minute and millions of people are suffering and dying!"

He removed the spectacles and allowed her to enter the focus of his far-sighted eyes.

"The world?" he repeated. "My world no longer exists except in the mind and the imagination—and in books like this one. As reality it has already perished. And so have I."

"I don't know what you're talking about!" she cried.

The Marchese closed the book and slipped it back into its place on the shelf.

"I'm sorry," he said. "I'm afraid I was thinking aloud. You see, Malone, I inherited a code, a way of life that is now obsolete. That's what I meant when I said that I had already perished."

He looked around the narrow, luxurious room.

"Here, I am pretending that all is well. . . making believe. . . If I were with those others beyond the mountains, how could I help them? What could I say to them? If I were to tell them to scrap their machines, would they listen to me? Would they return to the dignity of craftsmanship, the solace of faith, because I said it would heal their sickness? Would they leave the cities and build themselves towns; would they turn to beauty, to nature, to the deep excitement of learning, because I happen to believe that there is no other salvation? No, my dear Malone. Mine would be a thin, futile voice in the wind! Destiny is pulling mankind toward a precipice. It is like a torrent. There's no stopping it."

"BUT aren't you sorry for them?"

And us so safe, here?" Mrs. Malone shuddered.

"A dinner party! And I keep seeing a cloud like the one at Bikini, only bigger. I don't see how Mrs. Everson can be so happy."

The Marchese reached for his flute.

"Leave Mrs. Everson to God," he said.

Mrs. Malone stifled a retort. "Can I do your room now, sir?" she asked primly.

"If you please."

While she was making up his bed, she lifted the metal window blind and saw that the sunlight had changed. There were no clouds in the sky above the river. At least there were no cloud shapes. Rather the zenith itself seemed to have darkened.

There was no wind. Not a leaf of the forest stirred. Yet the whole visible landscape was suddenly caught into a sort of breathless and brooding shadow, as if a gigantic shape had passed between the earth and the noon-day sun.

Campaign To Rid City Of Disease Bearing Flies Gets Underway

Further action is developing on all fronts in the campaign to safeguard Jacksonville against the danger of poliomyelitis and other diseases, Robert Herr, chairman of the Lion's club health committee, announced Tuesday night.

Foremost in the campaigning will be the aerial spraying of certain sectors of the city. Equipment is being assembled to carry out the project. Though no definite date has been announced, Dr. Herr said he expects the plane to spray "within the next day or so."

Nurse Goes Out On Window Ledge To Push Patient In

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.—(AP)—A young student nurse walked several feet across a narrow ledge outside the fifth floor of Philadelphia General hospital today to aid an elderly patient who had climbed out a window.

She pushed the man into the arms of an orderly who hauled him back into the hospital. The patient's name was not made public by the hospital.

The nurse was Miss Marilyn Crowe, 20, of Uniontown, Pa., a first year student in the hospital's school of nursing.

When other hospital attendants discovered the man had climbed out on the ledge, Miss Crowe and an orderly hurried to the section. The windows and the ledge overlook an interior courtyard about 40 feet below.

While the orderly attracted the man's attention, Miss Crowe climbed out a window, carefully inched across the narrow ledge until she was close enough to push the man into the arms of the orderly. Then she climbed back through the window to safety inside the building.

George C. Egbert Accepts New Post

George C. Egbert, Jacksonville high school vocational agriculture instructor for the past three years, Monday began his new duties as sales director of the Corbett Hatcheries, with headquarters in Dixon, Ill.

Reared in Schuyler county, Mr. Egbert taught agriculture at McHenry high school before coming here in 1946 to succeed Roscoe Eiler. Under his direction the department has grown considerably.

Principal John Agger said Tuesday that the vacancy probably will be filled at the next meeting of the board of education.

Mrs. Egbert and their two daughters, Joan and Patsy, will leave Jacksonville soon to make their home in a recently-purchased residence in Dixon. While here they resided at 1503 Mound avenue.

Commander-Elect Names Three Men To Legion Posts

Commander-elect William Cochran of American Legion post 279 appointed three officers to positions at the regular meeting of the post Tuesday night.

Those named were F. A. Robinson, adjutant; Thomas Eades, employment officer; and Robert Wallace, child welfare officer.

Reports were given by Merle Johnson and Russell Alvarez. Included in new business was discussion of a Legion sponsored bowling team this winter. No action was taken.

Three men were reinstated to membership. They include George Travis, George H. Ames, and Charles Willoughby. One new member was admitted, Dr. Stanley A. Danhauser. Dr. Danhauser is attached to the staff at the Jacksonville State Hospital.

Say Legumes And Grasses May Be Used For Silage

Urbana—Turning legumes and grasses into silage is a good way to expand their use on many Illinois farms.

Where the land is highly productive and erosion is not a problem, farmers naturally prefer to grow more corn. On such farms it will probably be more practicable to use corn for silage than to grow legumes and grasses.

However, where legumes and grasses are planted mainly to improve cropping systems and protect soils against erosion, these plants may be used for silage. This suggestion comes from W. B. Nevins, dairy cattle feeding specialist at the University of Illinois.

Nevins says that all the common grasses and legumes are suitable for silage. It does, however, require more care, and sometimes the use of preservatives, to make good silage from these plants than from corn.

Attempt To Prove That Bottled Note Is Heiress' Will

London, Aug. 2.—(AP)—A microscope expert will seek to prove that a crumpled piece of brown paper washed ashore in a bottle in California is the long-sought will of sewing machine heiress Daisy Alexander.

According to a London lawyer, Ronald Cohen, he will split the income of the Singer sewing machine fortune—estimated at about $3,000,000 ($12,000,000)—between his father, Lawyer Barry Cohen, and the finder of the bottle, Jack J. Wurm of 3901 El Camino Real, Palo Alto, Calif.

The bottle was found on the beach near San Francisco March 16. The paper read "to avoid any confusion, I leave my entire estate to the lucky persons who find this bottle and to my Attorney Barry Cohen, share and share alike."

Printed in block capitals, the note carries a signature "Daisy Alexander," says the younger Cohen. His father was Mrs. Alexander's lawyer from 1908 to her death of bomb shock in London in World War II.

Fights Fire Alone For 3 Hours Before Calling Firemen

Santa Barbara, Calif., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Ellen Neary tried to be the perfect servant.

When fire broke out last in her upstairs bedroom, she was careful not to awaken her mistress, Mrs. Anita N. Hazard, or guests.

The maid crept softly down to the kitchen—filled a pitcher with water at the sink. Then she padded back upstairs and threw the water on the flames.

Fifty times Miss Neary repeated this procedure in a three-hour period, firemen said.

Finally others were awakened by the smoke and called firefighters to put out the blaze.

When firemen came they found Miss Neary still carrying the pitcher through heavy smoke.

Her nightgown was scorched and her legs were slightly burned. Damage to the bedroom was estimated at $300.

Morgan, Where The Tall Corn Grows!

By the Journal-Courier farm editor
If you have an Iowa relative visiting you, take them to Meredosia where they may see a stalk of corn that is really tall. This lengthy product of Morgan county fertility is lashed to the entrance of the scale house of the A.B. Chrisman Grain company.

It's 14 feet high, above the ground level.

The photograph shows Town Marshal Ray Ransom reaching high to put the heavy hand of the law on the ear. The marshal is five feet, eight inches tall. The ear is 15 inches long.

The tall stalk was raised about four miles east of Meredosia by W. E. Spencer of Chapin. It towered considerably above its companions in a field planted with Funk's G-80 seed.

Marshal Ransom called the stalk "the tallest I've ever seen." He's been Meredosia's town marshal for nearly 18 years and has served as a county deputy under Sheriffs Williamson, Hembrough and Bourn.

Bring In Soybean Plant
Thomas May of Meredosia, who lives in the bottoms across the river, brought in a soybean plant that has aroused considerable attention. A Lincoln, bushy and waist-high, it carried a total of 242 pods. Although some of the lower pods were filling, the plant was still blooming when its heavy stem was cut Sunday.

Mr. May farms in the McGee Creek district. The beans were planted May 20 at the rate of about 40 pounds to the acre.

Prospects Good
Older farmers say this year's prospects for bumper corn and soybean harvests are "the best yet." The crops went into the ground in almost perfect shape and the weatherman was particularly gracious. Rain-fall was ample, with the season's total over west central Illinois about normal although precipitation was below average during the months of March and April.

Even on late planted corn most of the heavy ears are now pointing at 2 o'clock. In some fields most of the giant ears are pointing at the ground. They'll be safe from frost long before the normal first frost of this area.

"It's been a poor year for nubbins," is an oft heard expression.

U. S. Tightens Its Anti-Smuggling Net On Germany

Frankfurt, Aug. 2.—(AP)—U.S. military government tightened its anti-smuggling net today to cut off a huge flow of black market goods into Germany.

Despite recent creation of a customs control force, large quantities of coffee, cigarettes, chocolate and drugs were reported still slipping into the U.S. zone illegally.

Officials recently estimated the annual total at nearly $600,000,000. One of today's new orders was aimed directly at agencies which shipped in "gift" packages duty free, then divert the goods into the black market.

Any agency caught in such deals will be prosecuted and barred from operation, military government warned.

Estate Of Swift, Meat Packer Near $5,000,000 Mark

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The estate of Charles H. Swift, Chicago meat packer, was estimated worth $5,043,926 in an inheritance tax return filed today.

Swift, chairman of Swift and Company's board, died Sept. 30, 1948.

Documents filed in county court with the tax return showed the University of Chicago and the Chicago Orchestra association will benefit substantially under terms of his bequest.

One $1,000,000 trust fund, from which a capital amount of $25,000 will be paid annually to the widow, Mrs. Claire Dux Swift, is to be divided after her death, with the university getting 60 per cent and the Orchestra association 40 per cent. Interest income will be divided meanwhile on the same basis.

A similar arrangement was made with respect to the capital residue of a $600,000 trust fund from which Swift's brother, Harold, the present board chairman of the packing firm, will draw $15,000 a year. Interest on this fund will be given to Illinois, literary, scientific, religious and educational institutions to be selected by Harold Swift.

Lilly, Pa., Aug. 2.—(AP)—A beserk gunman shot the chief of police and a pedestrian today during a brief reign of terror as he splattered the main street with bullets.

Chief of Police Edward Bradley, shot in the side while pursuing the gunman, was reported in satisfactory condition at Mercy hospital in Altoona.

William McIntosh, 36, of Lilly, is in a critical condition. A bullet entered his back near the base of the spine.

An hour later, state police captured Joseph Godish, 24, of Lilly, in a woods near this western Pennsylvania town. Trooper Elmer Schmorcy quoted the man as saying only: "They were giving me a hard time." He did not identify "they."

Police said Godish entered a downtown hardware store and asked to see a 22 rifle and shells. He grabbed the gun, rushed to the street and began shooting.

Godish is being held in Cambria county jail at Ebensburg. No charges have filed as yet.

Red Says U.S. Will Find No Allies In Soviet Satellites

New York, Aug. 2.—(AP)—National communist chairman William Z. Foster was quoted in court today as saying "imperialist America" would find no allies among the people's governments of Europe in the event of war with the Soviet union.

Edward Joseph Chaka, a communist official from Cleveland, appeared for the defense in the communist conspiracy trial to give his version of what Foster said to an Ohio convention of the party in July, 1948.

William Cummings, a government witness, had quoted the national chairman as saying that if it were the "free countries of Europe" would rally to the support of the Soviet union.

Chaka said that wasn't what Foster said.

"Mr. Foster spoke on the people's governments," he testified, "and said that in case of an imperialist war between the Soviet union and the United States, Imperialist America would not find any allies among those people in Europe."

Morelli Is Moved To Death Cell To 'Get Some Sleep'

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(AP)—James Morelli has got one of his last wishes to be moved to the death cell 10 days early so he can "get some sleep."

Now he finds things "great," says the 22-year-old "mad dog killer" sentenced to die in the electric chair Aug. 12.

Customarily doomed men are moved to the death cell just a few hours before their execution.

But Morelli complained: "The guys in the cells around me snore like rusty buzz saws with the teeth missing. How about giving me some quiet for the time I've got left?"

Wlen Warden Chester Fordney hesitantly suggested the death cell, he said Morelli replied: "Fine, fine. I'm not the scary kind, and I'll bet it'll be quiet."

Jail officials said Morelli entered the cell with a shrug and a swagger, then announced: "This is great—nice and clean, soft mattress, fresh sheets and everything."

Approximately 175 boys and girls from this city will make the journey to St. Louis and see a baseball game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Braves.

Schindler announced that all children intending to make the trip and have secured tickets, should be at the Academy lot on South Church street promptly at 9 o'clock.

Drivers Should Plan
He also stated that drivers who have donated their cars should also plan to be at the lot by 9 o'clock and he requested that they park their automobiles on West Morgan street, South Church street and South Fayette street, remaining off of College avenue because of traffic hazards.

It is planned to start loading the children into the cars at 9:15 o'clock and that the caravan will probably get underway by 9:45 o'clock.

Police To Escort
The delegation will be headed by Illinois State Highway police who will accompany the caravan to Alton and the Lewis Clark bridge. All drivers will be given instruction sheets before leaving the Academy lot. After the game the drivers will return to Jacksonville individually as no effort will be made to form into one group.

Schindler added that children should provide their own lunches or take sufficient funds with them to make purchases at the baseball park.

The committee assisting Mr. Schindler includes James Ogle, Jack Matthews, Ted Rammelkamp, and John Henderson.

German Vacations With Man Who Was Once His Prisoner

Swanscombe, Eng., Aug. 2.—(AP)—A German prince began an eight-week vacation today in the four-room home of an English butcher's helper who once was his prisoner of war.

Prince Waldemar Zu Hohenlohe-Chringen, 53, arrived in London by air last night from Wuerzburg. He came on here with his host, George Wickenden, 30.

The prince was commandant of the Blechhammer prison camp in upper Silesia during the war. Wickenden, a British army private, was an inmate.

The Nazis decided the prince was too kind to the prisoners and shipped him off to Italy as an interpreter, Wickenden told reporters.

"I thought he was a wonderful chap," he said.

That's why Wickenden and his wife invited him over. They paid the prince's £25 ($100) plane fare out of money they had saved for their own vacation from Wickenden's salary, which amounts to $21.60 a week.

Hawaiian Senate Kills Try To Seize Striking Dockers

Honolulu, Aug. 2.—(AP)—An attempt to give Hawaii's government power to seize Stevedoring companies involved in the 94-day-old dock strike was killed in the territorial senate today.

By a vote of 8 to 7 the senate rejected an amendment introduced by Senator Herbert K. H. Lee, Democrat. It would have substituted the seizure plan for a tough bill passed yesterday by the House.

The Senate then prepared for a final vote tomorrow on the House bill, which would put the territorial government in the Stevedoring business.

The House bill then must go back to the House for agreement on minor changes.

The House measure provides for a 77-day cooling off period. If the workers vote to strike, the territorial government can obtain an injunction for 60 days.

Report Balbo Rye Stretches Season

Urbana—The pasture season can be stretched into winter by using the Balbo rye seeded in August, according to W. O. Scott, University of Illinois agronomist. This variety grows fast enough to offer plenty of fall pasture for livestock.

Illinois experiments show that Balbo can withstand pasturing better than common rye. For this reason, it is recommended over common strains. Because the plants grow rapidly, it is especially desirable for fall, winter and early spring pasture. Another advantage is that it isn't susceptible to the dreaded Hessian fly.

Scott suggests seeding Balbo rye at the rate of 15 bushels an acre in a good seedbed.

Hunt ruled her dog the father of pups born to Chase's dog, but scaled the damages down to $55.

Chase, a University of Wyoming student, said a dog owned by another university student was the papa, and that he would appeal to the district court.

Butler Of Society Matron Admits He Shot Her To Death

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Police today ended their widespread search for the killer of an elderly society matron with the arrest of her former negro butler.

Police Chief Frank N. Littlejohn reported the negro, a convicted draft dodger, had admitted shooting Mrs. Esley O. Anderson, Sr., 63, to death with a shotgun in her fashionable home here yesterday.

Littlejohn identified the former servant as Monroe Medlin, 23. He said Medlin also had admitted attacking the butler who replaced him, Wilford Randleman, 48, with a heavy iron pipe and slashing his throat.

Randleman, in a semi-coma at a local hospital, has been unable to talk to police since the killer fled the blood-splattered home.

Medlin, discharged by the prominent woman's husband last month when he took a negro girl to his servant's quarters, stole $11 from Mrs. Anderson's purse after shooting her, the chief reported.
